Meet the YEP MED Talent participants from Lebanon

From the 24th to the 30th of May, Lebanese trainees who have already graduated from previous YEP MED courses will travel to Spain and Italy for a great opportunity for their professional future. The five trainees were selected based on specific criteria related to their profiles, performances during past trainings and individual motivational videos they submitted.

The Tetrahedron: Innovation, Entrepreneurship, Training and Employment in the Digital Age

Today, it is essential that innovation, entrepreneurship, training and employment develop in harmony, avoiding mismatches between the needs and capabilities of each stage. What we started out visualising as training and occupation and which we represented as the two sides of a coin has now become a four-sided tetrahedron in which innovation and entrepreneurship become an indissoluble part of the equation.
